

Sedum

The Sedum "Blob" range are a versatile and low maintenance group of plants and are the perfect solution for a small space.sedum crop

There are five great colours to choose from, all with ornamental, fleshy foliage providing year-round interest. These plants form a cushion-like mound, creating a highly textured ground cover which also looks effective spilling between rocks and over rock walls.

These plants prefer a sunny location and well-draining soil. Once established, water sparingly. These plants are succulents and typically only require watering during extended periods of heat. A slow release fertiliser during spring would be beneficial.

Suggested uses:

Ground cover or edging for paths/driveways

Rockeries, gravel or dry garden landscapes

Pots/Containers

General garden use
